PROFESSIONAL SUMMARY

I'm a content strategist who listens like a researcher and advocates like a product partner. I have 7+ years in user experience, AI systems, and digital media with a STEM master's from USC Annenberg. I've recently designed content frameworks for AI prompt systems including Remitly's cross-border money transfer app within ChatGPT. I work across user research, content design and localization. Now more than ever, AI needs the voice of content designers to build responsible, human-centered content systems, and I want to bring that to your team.

SKILLS

Content Design: interface copy, onboarding flows, error messages, tooltips, voice and tone systems, terminology standards, fallback state, accessibility (ADA/WCAG), A/B testing, content research

Content Strategy: editorial calendar management, social media & web strategy, long-form content, email campaigns, SEO optimization, brand strategy, compliance content, content style guides, localization, prompt libraries, AI content evaluation

Tools: Figma, Usertesting, ChatGPT, Claude, Cursor, Lovable, Jira, Confluence, Ditto, Notion, Photoshop, CapCut, PowerPoint, Brandwatch, Google Trends

EXPERIENCE

Remitly, Seattle, Content Designer, Oct 2025 – Apr 2026

- Pioneered Remitly's first mini app inside ChatGPT for cross-border money transfers: SEO-based intent mapping, response framework, and logic tree that drove 3K+ sessions and 2.1K user queries in phase one, peaking at 667 sessions on launch day alone.
- Led the content design for the second launch of Remitly's WhatsApp virtual assistant, architecting the conversational flow, confirmation states, and error handling behind its expansion into the UK, Canada, and Spain and the new Request Money feature built with Elektra in Mexico, contributing to 62% quarter-over-quarter growth in unique WhatsApp send sessions.
- Developed ContentGPT, an internal AI tool trained on Remitly's voice, tone, and content guardrails enabling designers, PMs, and engineers to generate on-brand product copy consistently at scale.
- Owned the identity and trust content backbone of the product, turning scam prevention messaging, identity verification flows, and regulatory requirements into user centered content backed by user research for the moments where users were most at risk of fraud.
